LOUISBURG

FEMALE COLLEGE.

REV. T. M. JONES, A. M., Pres't and Proprietor.

THE EXERCISES OF THIS INSTITUTION will begin on the second Wednesday in January, 1866.

Louisburg is a village seldom surpassed for health, intelligence, refinement and morality. It is in Franklin County, nine miles from Franklinton, on the R. and Gaston Railroad. Between these points there is a daily stage line, connecting with trains going North and South.

The College building, located in a beautiful grove, on an elevated site, is large, commodious and well ventilated. It will be thoroughly renovated, and fitted up with neat furniture and fire places in the dormitories. It is our purpose to establish for young ladies a school of the highest grade, affording superior facilities for the acquisition of a thorough and accomplished education.

With the advantages of a good library, a well selected Chemical and Philosophical apparatus, a competent Faculty, and large experience in connection with the Greensboro Female College, we hope, by a faithful discharge of duty, to merit a liberal share of patronage. Boarding pupils will live as members of the President's family. Terms reasonable, and will be made known in due time. Those desiring to send their daughters, will please address me, for the present, at Greensboro, N. C, and circulars will be sent.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1865.

THE NATIONAL UNION TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR,

Jonathan Worth, Esq.

OF RANDOLPH.

THE PEOPLE must be trusted with their Government, and if trusted, my opinion is that they will act in good faith, and restore their former constitutional relations with all the States composing the Union.—Andrew Johnson's letter to Gov. Sharkey, of Mississippi.

THE NATIONAL UNION PARTY.

We acknowledge His Excellency, ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States of America, to be the head and leader of the great National Union party. His reconstruction policy is at present the basis of that party, and we stand firmly upon it. This is the only party we acknowledge in this State.

Be not Deceived---Let the people be on their Guard!

Every effort is now made to impress upon the people, that Gov. Holden must be elected to please the President and to please the North.—This is the "morning, noon and evening cry" of the Standard. Many sensible people, strange to say, are deceived by this outcry.

We will not detract from Gov. Holden what is due him. We would not defeat him unfairly before the people. Others less scrupulous, may retaliate upon the Standard and its friends, and employ the low artifices and undignified, ungentlemanly weapons which they employ to checkmate them, but we will not. We rely upon the sober sense of the people and the force of truth, and nothing else. If the Standard or its satellites choose to resort to abuse, falsehood and the most shameless corruption, we will not follow it into the cess-pool.

A Federal officer of standing and reliability, we are informed, who has been in the State most of the time since the arrival of Gen. Sherman's army, recently paid a visit to Washington city and was there some days. He stated to our informant on his return, that prior to his going to Washington, he was fully impressed with the belief that the election of Gov. Holden to the office of Civil Governor, was desired in Washington city and the North, and that it would give the President the highest satisfaction; but on going there, he returned with the conviction, that the election of any other gentleman in the State, with a better record as a Union man, would be hailed there with much more pleasure. This statement he made before he knew Mr. Worth was a candidate.

We have now before us a letter from a gentleman in Washington city, well acquainted with public affairs, and one who is deeply interested in the welfare of North Carolina. He says:

"Let every thing be done to enlighten the people of North Carolina. Holden is trying to produce the impression that the President is for him. It is not true. The President is desirous to be with the true Union men of the State and of the country."

Again he says:

"I verily believe if Holden should get the votes of the people, no matter under what pretence, we will be doomed to a long agitation and turmoil, before we again get North Carolina back into the Union."

False Reports.

We learn that the most shameless reports are in circulation in the country in regard to Mr. Worth. Even his private character and conduct are assailed. Of course no attempt will be made to ferret out and expose these falsehoods. The private and public character of Jonathan Worth, as well as his private and public conduct, are known by the people of Raleigh and wherever he is known throughout the State, to be above suspicion or impeachment. A more sober, thoughtful, straight forward, and entirely unexceptionable man in his private life and public character does not live in the State.

We would with equal promptness defend the private conduct and character of Gov. Holden, if they were assailed. As a good citizen and neighbor and friend, we have none better. It is only his political conduct and character that we have to do with and to which we object.

"He (Gov. Holden) has erred, as all public men have, but he has never broken faith, or betrayed his trust, or turned his back on those with whom his lot was cast. As a Union man he can be relied upon. He would scorn to desert his friends, or under any pretext or from any motive pander to his enemies for support."—Standard, Oct. 18, 1865.

What will the people, especially the readers of the Standard for the last twenty years, say to the above? Is there a public man or one who has been a public man in North Carolina for the last twenty years, that Gov. Holden has not at one time or another, been his friend and then his foe, or vice versa? We remember but one, and that man is Col. Brown of Caswell, who has managed by some means to ride now this, then that side of the sappling, just as the editor of the Standard, has found it necessary to ride.

Are the present so-called editors of the Standard, quite sure—are they absolutely certain, (for the people want to be certain now) that Gov. Holden can, for all time to come be relied on as a Union man? We have no doubt he intends to be now, but the political somersets which the Standard has made for the last twenty years, makes the matter dubious.

Mr. Worth and the Sinking Fund.

The Standard in its alarm grasps at every straw floating upon the surface. In its issue of the 26th inst., it insinuates that Mr. Worth, as Public Treasurer, "caused a large amount of old N. C. bonds belonging to the Sinking Fund of the State to be sold, and the war debt bonds to be substituted in their place.

The Standard knows full well that the Public Treasurer has no control whatever over the Sinking Fund. His duty is simply to follow the directions of the Commissioners of that Fund in its management. We say the Standard knew this and yet shamelessly perpetrates that insinuation against Mr. Worth.

Now what are the facts? The commissioners of the Sinking Fund on the 1st day of October, 1862, made the order directing the sale of the old bonds and investing them in new ones, just three months before Mr. Worth went into office! This the editors of the Standard might have known if they had enquired. The Governor who owns the Standard knows that the books and papers of the Treasurer's office are not only subject to his inspection, but to the inspection of any gentleman who may desire to examine them. Mr. Worth has issued no order preventing any one from examining his record. The books of the commissioners of the Sinking Fund are in Mr. Worth's possession, and can be seen at any time.

But were the commissioners of the Sinking Fund to blame for this investment? Did they not act perfectly in accordance with the views of the Standard, which was calling for "the last dollar and the last man?"

Hon. Josiah Turner, Jr.

This gentleman is a special thorn in the sides of the "straitest sect" men. They will compass sea and land to defeat him. But a more honest, bolder and more fearless defender of what he believes to be truth, does not live. He is no time-server, no fawner, no demagogue, though he talks for effect. What he says he believes, and he tries to make others believe it. The true Union men of the District will support him, who are opposed to the policy of the "straitest sect." The friends of Zebulon B. Vance and of Gov. Graham will stand by him. We are glad to learn that that honest man, Dr. J. T. Leach, of Johnston, will support him. He knows Josiah Turner, jr., well, and he knows Col. Russ, and Col Edwards and Col. Arrington, and he goes for Turner. Let the people of the District throw no shot away. The contest is manifestly between Josiah Turner, jr., and Col. Russ. Which of them do the people prefer?

Provisional Governor.

The Standard of June 15, said:

"His appointment (Gov. Holden's) was made for a particular purpose, and for a limited time. When that object shall have been accomplished, he will have discharged his duties, and the government will change from a temporary to a permanent one."

This is precisely what President Johnson, Gov. Holden and the people of North Carolina understand by the appointment. It was temporary, and in conferring the appointment upon Gov. Holden, he in no wise intimated then, nor has he since, that he desired his election to the office of civil Governor. The course adopted in other States, clearly indicates that the President makes no choice for the people of civil governor. Let the people make their own choice. The President's appointment was temporary, let the people select a good, civil, Union man for civil Governor, such as Jonathan Worth is.

Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road.

The article in the Sentinel yesterday on the irregularity of the Northern mail was handed to us by a friend, whose attention had been called to the matter by a friend of his in New York, whose business was liable to suffer by the irregularity of the mails. We appended the remark about the failure of the Sentinel on the N. C. R. Road, and attributed it to the fact that that Road had not been sufficiently provided with Route Agents. We designed no allusion to the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road. We were under the impression that the Northern mail so far had been carried on the N. C. R. Road, as we always received our Northern papers by that mail.

We take great pleasure in saying, that we have heard of no complaint on the Raleigh & Gaston Rail Road, where we believe the mail matter has been almost entirely committed to the care of the conductors of that Road, and we feel sure no such complaint will be heard upon any of our Roads when the full complement of Route Agents have been put on them. We are under the highest obligations to the gentlemanly conductors of the Raleigh and Gaston Road, for the promptness and regularity with which they have delivered the Sentinel on that Route.

Dr. Rufus K. Speed.

We publish this gentleman's card to-day announcing himself as a candidate for Congress from the first Congressional District. It has the ring of true metal, and if the choice shall fall upon him the people may rely up him as an unflinching, earnest, able representative.

Direct Taxes.

Hon. E. H. Sears, U. S. Commissioner of Direct Taxes, will keep his office open for about ten days, to receive the taxes from such persons as wish to avail them of this opportunity. Supreme Court office in the Capital.

Davidson County.

Judge Gilliam, will hold a Court of Oyer and Terminer for Davidson County, on the second Monday in November next.

John D. Whitford, Esq., has been nominated as a candidate for the Senate in Craven county.

For the Sentinel.

How did we Stand in 1850?

The great advocate of Union in 1850, whose trumpet tones have scarcely yet died away, was the late eloquent, patriotic and deeply lamented Henry W. Miller. Who can ever forget with what magical power he stirred up our souls to patriotic efforts to save the Union, then in such imminent peril? His compeers in the cause were such men as William A. Graham, Jno. M. Morehead, George E. Badger, Josiah Turner jr., Charles Manly, Thomas S. Ashe, John A. Gilmer, Z. B. Vance and JONATHAN WORTH.

Listen again to the noble Orator, who thus "poured out his soul" in his glorious plea for the Union at Oxford on the 5th of November 1850:

"Then SHALL WE STAND BY THE COMPROMISE? That is the question—that the issue, not for the South alone, but for the North,—for the West,—for the whole country. Upon it, I honestly believe, depends the preservation of this Union.—What do we behold? Whilst the fanatics of the North are proclaiming their determination to set at defiance one branch of those laws, we find at the South, those who would move heaven and earth, to excite resistance to other parts, who advocate secession, who proclaim that disunion is far preferable to submission to them. Have such men, North or South, calculated the terrible consequences of such rashness? Have they reflected well upon the effects—the humiliating—the melancholy, aye the awful effects which must necessarily be produced by a dissolution of this Union?"

But listen to another bugle:

("This is no time to dispute about terms. If gentlemen do not like the word secede, and if we cannot consent to use the word revolution, let DISSOLUTION be the substitute for either or both."—N. C. Standard, Dec. 4, 1850.

"All we now ask of the free States is to cease the agitation of the slave question in Congress, and to carry out the fugitive slave law in its letter and spirit. Let them do this, and we march on together—let them refuse and we DISSOLVE.—This is strong language, but we have weighed and have given utterance to it with deliberation and solemnity."—Standard, Dec. 18, 1850.)

Hearken again to the bugle notes of the Union Orator, and say who were true patriots in 1850:

"If we cannot now, whilst living under the same parental government, reconcile our differences, and secure our mutual rights and peace, what will be the condition of things when the bonds that unite us together shall be broken asunder! Will heart-burnings—jealousies and bickerings, be done away? Will they not rather increase more and more in bitterness' until broils, border violence, rapine and war,—a war of extermination, a war of horrors never yet known to the bloodiest pages of history, must follow? Would the South be able to protect her property without a cordon of military posts along the whole line which would divide us?—With the caldrons of fanaticism on the subject of slavery, boiling on all sides of us, emitting their poisonous exhalations through our ports, across our line of frontier, by every means which the ingenuity of the disaffected and lawless might invent, could we look for safety and protection, without military encampments, standing armies, a sleepless police and grinding taxes?

Hear the discordant Standard again:

("If this Confederation of States must perish; if their common flag, radiant with achievements as immortal as the stars, that cluster on it, must be torn and trampled in this conflict, and if brothers must be converted into deadly foes over the very graves of their fathers who won their liberties; the Ruler of nation's who judges justly, and all posterity upon this continent will hold the slaveholding States guiltless of this inexpiable crime."—Standard Dec., 18, 1860.

Mr. Miller again:

"CALCULATE THE VALUE OF THIS UNION! Who can do it? What mind can fully comprehend the inquiry—what intellect can grasp the theme! Who can estimate the good which it has already accomplished—who can foresee—who foretell the evils that will follow its dissolution! Stretching from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean—throwing its mighty arms from the frozen regions of the north to the sunny climes of the south—with a soil as rich and varied as the sun in his course ever shines upon—with a population of thirty millions of souls—prosperous, happy, enterprising—sending up their songs of praise to the Almighty Disposer of events, for the great blessings they enjoy—with a commerce whitening every sea—and carrying the fruits of civilization into every land—with a government, which for safeguards to human freedom, surpasses all that ever entered into the imagination of a Plato or Harrington—thus standing out before the world—A GREAT, FREE, UNITED NATION—a bright and shining light to the down trodden—a terror to tyrants and oppressors—if this light be extinguished—if this planet shoot madly from its sphere, and dart into the black abyss of monarchy and civil bloodshed, where—where again will man look for hope—what other star of freedom will pierce the darkness?"

Hear again the Standard:

("We will stand by the Union as long as the constitution is executed in good faith, and preserved inviolate, and no longer."—Standard March 19, 1861.

The day the death warrant of the fugitive slave law is sealed, will also seal the fate of this Union. Repeal that law, and millions of Southern men will go about dsisolving the Union as in the performance of a sacred duty."—Standard May 3, 1850.)

Once more MR. Miller:

"CALCULATE THE VALUE OF THIS UNION—THE WORTH OF OUR GLORIOUS CONSTITUTION! Sixty odd years have elapsed since North Carolina came into the Union, since she put her seal to that Constitution. Two years she reflected before the step was taken. She reflected long and well. She came in. She signed the great indenture. She affixed to it the signet of her sovereignty. It was her own voluntary act! Up to this hour she has performed faithfully and with true and patriotic heart, all its obligations. She expects still to perform them. SHE will never deny her signature or repudiate her seal. She desires to be true to her plighted faith to her sisters. She demands of them to be true to their duty—to their pledges—to their obligations. If they are thus true, she will stand with them upon the battlements of this Union, and though they rock and totter beneath the attacks of enemies, she will never lean cowardly from them, but clinging the firmer to her high position, hand in hand with those sisters, she will bid defiance to the assaults of fanaticism from within, and tyranny from without!

If dangers threaten—if perils come—may she cling to that Constitution—the bark which carried our fathers through the perilous waves of anarchy—and however portentous the coming storm, may she lash herself to it, and if destined, at last, to go down, I pray God, that she may go down with a bold and true heart—untainted with treachery, and with garments unsullied by treason!"

Hear the Standard again:

("It is sufficient for us to say that we hold to the right of secession as an original, pre-existing, reserved, sovereign right."—Standard, January 15, 1851.

"As soon as Lincoln called for troops to make war on the South, we denounced him as a usurper, and turned our back on the old Union, without end. We did this two, with the most entire consistency, for we had always held that the States had a right to secede for cause."—Standard, October 30, 1861.

"Fight! Fight! Five letters contain the only solution which hang over the Confederacy. * * * We repeat what we have often said that nothing will do but F-I-G-H-T. We must fight every where—all the time, &c.—Standard, June 14, 1862.)

Shade of Henry W. Miller! where are we? Who is the true Union man, Jonathan Worth, who was then, is now, and always has been for the Union—or the writer of the strange sentiments contained above in parentheses? Q.

Congressional Honors.

We believe we have seldom seen a greater anxiety among our people for Congressional honors than at the present time. There are four candidates in the first District, Mr. J. R. Stubbs, of Martin, Dr. Speed of Pasquotank, Mr. Bond of Chowan, and Judge Warren of Beaufort. In the second District, there are but two, C. C. Clark and Mr. Lehman, both of Craven. In the third there are four or five, Mr. Little of Anson, Mr. T. C. Fuller of Cumberland, Mr. McLean of Robeson, and McDonald of Moore.

In the 4th, Messrs. Turner, Russ, Edwards and Arrington. In the fifth, Messrs. Hanes and Brown. In the sixth, Dr. J. G. Ramsey, of Rowan, Dr. Sloan of Gaston, and we see also the names of Mr. Boyden of Rowan, and Mr. Pritchard of Mecklenburg, announced. In the seventh, we have T. R. Caldwell of Burke, A. H. Jones of Henderson and Col. Love of Jackson.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.—In the absence of the Pastor, the Rev. Dr. Lacy will preach on Sabbath morning, in the Presbyterian Church.

Gov. Holden's Opinion of Mr. Worth.

"It is proper that we should say that, in speaking of Gov. Vance and the State Government, we do not mean to include such officials as the State Treasurer, (JONATHAN WORTH) &c., THOSE ARE GOOD TRUE MEN."—Standard April 19, 1865.

It gives us much pleasure to be able to announce that Jonathan Worth Esq., has consented to accept the office of Treasurer and Property Agent for the State. In addition to the duties of Treasurer, he will be charged with collecting and selling all the property belonging to the State: cotton, turpentine, and every other article of State property, and to investigate and report to the Convention the condition of the State finances. The condition of the banks, railronds, asylums, and other public corporations.

The office is a very important one, and it will give great satisfaction to know that Mr. Worth is to discharge its duties. His judgment, energy, and integrity, mark him as the man who will perform them for the best interest of the State.—Standard, June 10th 1865.

"We cannot omit to mention the name of that very able officer and meritorious gentleman, Mr. Treasurer Worth. He has labored most faithfully and diligently in his efforts to reorganzie and restore the Treasury Department to something like shape and form. But few men would have undertaken such a task as he has. With a Treasury empty and bankrupt, and with resources cut off in a great measure, he yet undertook this arduous task. No other object but the public good, could have induced him to shoulder such a burden, with such a dark financial future before him. He deserves the sympathies, the approval, and the support of every good man in the State."—Standard Oct. 1865.

Gov. Holden's Opinion of President Johnson in 1861.

"ANDY JOHNSON.—An exchange speaking of Senator Johnson of Tennessee says: "The man who was once the idol of his State, is now hissed and hooted, despised and disgraced wherever he goes—a fate which he truly deserves, and which awaits all who speak and act against their home and country."—N. C. Standard, May 29, 1861.

"ANDY JOHNSON.—The papers charge Senator Johnson of Tennessee, with the rankest treason to his own State. It is said that he has received $1000 from A. W. Lawrence of Boston, for his efforts to keep Tennessee in the Union. The course of Johnson, Etheridge, Nelson, Brownlow and Maynard cannot be too severely denounced."—N. C. Standard, June 19, 1861.

"Andy Johnson made his escape Northward from Tennessee in a close buggy with three armed men. He ought be caught ere he reaches Abraham's bosom."—N. C. Standard, June 26, 1861.

* * * "Mr. Edward Everett is the most elegant devil out of perdition. Behold the trio, Andrew Johnson, John C. Breckinridge and Edward Everett."

"O for a tongue to curse the slave,
Whose treason like a deadly blight,
Comes o'er the councils of the brave,
To blast them in their hour of might."
N. C. Standard, June 26, 1861.

PLANTATION FOR RENT.

THE SUBSCRIBER, HAVING ENGAGED IN another business, wishes to rent out his plantation for the ensuing year. He does not want more than eight, nor less than six hands worked upon it. For this number of hands, the opportunity for making a crop is unusually fine. The chance for

TOBACCO AND OATS,

superior. There are seventy thousand tobacco hills which may be put in, that will make good tobacco without manure, and there is plenty of the very best tobacco land that may be cleared. The location is in a very fine neighborhood, three miles from Macon Depot on the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road, and is one of the most healthy and delightful in the County. The residence contains six rooms, and there are all the necessary outhouses and a good orchard. He will sell everything necessary to carry on the farm—stock, crop, team, plantation implements, &c., &c. Address, or call upon

Plots and Plotting.

A great master has attributed the hatching of "treasons, stratagems and spoils" to lean and hungry men. That our goodly proportioned, and well-to-do neighbors, who are said to edit the Standard, have allowed their dreams to be so disturbed about plots is indeed a marvel. According to their ferverish conceptions, Jonathan Worth and his supporters are plotting horribly. They are supposed to have plotted first the payment of the war debt of the State. Then when the ordinance was passed to sponge out this debt, that they plotted against submitting it to the people for ratification or rejection. Do they not see that the repudiation is now complete? and that if it had been submitted to the people, that it might have been rejected? So that if repudiation is acceptable to their troubled souls, they have it now in perfection, without appeal to the people. But our friends dream of another plot—"A shrewd and cunning plot,"—which is, that the said Jonathan Worth and his aiders and abettors design to have this ordinance repealed at the adjourned session of the Convention in May. All these plots are entirely new to Mr. Worth and his friends, and are only the crude conceptions of diseased brains, which have incubated too much and too long for their own healthy action, those schemes for deception, and those unworthy and partisan tricks which do them no credit, and which, by a strange hallucination, they now impute to better men. Let them ease their consciences and be at rest. Jonathan Worth is no trickster. A distinguished citizen, very honest himself, years ago informed the writer that he knew Jonathan Worth intimately and had known him long, and "a more candid and honest man, he never knew." He is the plotter of no plots. He practices no indirection in accomplishing his plans. He would scorn to declare his unbounded confidence in "an intelligent and indulgent people," and then try to scare that intelligent and indulgent people into his support by intimations that he was the favorite of the President—and that unless he was made Governor by their votes they would have to "stay out" from all the benefits of the Union. This is the daily tune upon that harp of a thousand strings, which is twanging away on Hargett street so dismally, that some really intelligent, though timid people we fear, have been made to shake in their shoes. Let them not be alarmed. Let them stand up like men. No such humiliating edict has issued from Washington. It is simply and only the coinage of a cunning brain much nearer home, and is insulting to every man of sense in the State. It emanates from a head that is used to plotting—or from the hands of those who, however incapable of plotting themselves with shrewdness and cunning, have sufficient capacity to comprehend, and the weak willingness to spread before the intelligent public the plottings of other and superior minds. W.

For the Sentinel.

Jonathan Worth and Gov. Holden.

We do not believe there is a disloyal man in North Carolina—and what is more, we have no doubt but Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, has a stronger hold on the hearts of the people of the State than any living man has had in forty years. This fact, taken in connection with the general discontent with Gov. Holden, argues against the latter—for he had a submissive and loyal people to govern, and was the executor of the policy of a man whose name is a tower of strength. It is not our purpose now to indicate all the points in which Gov. Holden has failed to do justice to the President's reconstruction policy; but we will briefly mention some matters which are in themselves a sufficient cause for the general disappointment.

First. There has been an unaccountable delay in calling a Convention; and the State which had the first Provisional Governor, and which is the native State of the President, and which he was anxious to see moving forward with an honorable alacrity, is one of the last to get from under military rule.

The fault either lies in Gov. Holden or in the rebellious condition of the people; and who dares to say the latter is the cause? The action of Gov. H. entails blame on him or the people, one; and is it any wonder the people should vindicate themselves by holding the Governor responsible?

Second. Notwithstanding this delay, there has not been that caution in re-organizing counties which might be implied; and it is notorious that many very unworthy appointments have been made.

Third. There is an appearance of unreasonable partiality in the recommendations for pardon, and at all events the people have been astonished to find impediments thrown in the way of some of the best men in the State, and men who have done less than Gov. Holden to bring on a bloody, civil war.

Fourth. The Standard is considered the organ of Gov. Holden, it is edited by his Son, and one of his Secretaries, and has never been disowned as an organ. Its tone and temper have not been of that magnanimous, encouraging character which the afflicted population of a great and bleeding State had a right to expect in the mouth-piece of their ruler, one of themselves, and involved in whatever guilt attaches to the doctrines of secession.

The people of North Carolina have not forgotten that when they held the Union of the States as sacred, Gov. Holden was violently assaulting it, and that his long, zealous and persistent teachings, did more than ever the people did to prepare the way for the dreadful conflict of arms. And now, when they are broken and peeled by the contest to which his doctrines, for many years led, and for which he voted in the Convention in May 1861, they are in no humor to brook harsh lectures from him for their sins, and to hear their conduct spoken of in the harsh terms of one who holds himself more loyal and faultless. When they looked for the Governor's sympathy they met rebuke, and they hear a kinder and softer language from those who lately confronted them in arms, than from their own brother and fellow-sinner.

But we do not wish to dwell on these painful themes; we have one paramount reason for voting for Mr. Holden's opponent, and that is that he is every way the man for the crisis. He is no friend of the President, who pretends that it would be displeasing to the latter to see the people of his native State freely choosing their rulers, loyal men, under the constitutional rights, which the President has helped to secure to them, and in making this choice, we all freely accord a generous and just motive in the President in conferring the dignity which he did on Gov. Holden. He will understand and appreciate the motives of the people as they do his, and he will be a bold man who will contend that the choice of the free, Union, loving, consistent, honest and faithful Worth, by the people will be otherwise than pleasing to the noble statesman at the head of national affairs. PHILO.

For the Sentinel.

Mr. Editor:—The Standard and Progress are trying to deceive the people of North Carolina, by endeavoring to make them believe that if Mr. Worth is elected, it will prevent the State from getting back into the Union. If I am not mistaken, President Johnson takes the ground that none of the Southern States have ever been out of the Union, and on that decision the State Convention acted, when it declared that the ordinance of 1861, was of no legal force or effect. I know that two of the leading members of the Convention (Messrs. Boyden and Thompson,) used this very proposition as a strong argument why the original ordinance introduced by Mr. Boyden should be adopted, in preference to that of Mr. Ferebee's.

If the position of the President and the action of the Convention be correct—and the Standard and Progress both declare they are—in the name of common sense, what effect can the election of Mr. Worth have in preventing the State from again resuming her place in the Union? I agree with the President and the State Convention, in the position they have taken, and claim that North Carolina is still a member of the Federal Union, and the only difficulty that can possibly arise is the eligibility of our members of Congress.

The argument that North Carolina will be kept out of the Union unless Mr. Holden is elected Governor, is a subterfuge to deceive the people. President Johnson does not assume to dictate to the people who they shall elect Governor; nor is it reasonable to suppose that he will be offended, if his appointee as Provisional Governor is not elected by the people. If I am not mistaken, not a single Provisional Governor, of either of the Southern States, has been, or is likely to be, elected by the people. Is President Johnson offended at that? Will those States be kept out of the Union on account of their action on that matter? No such argument is used any where but in this State. And why is it used here?—Simply to deceive the people—to scare them into voting for Mr. Holden. The argument is a cheat, a deception and an insult to the intelligence of the people of the State.

Mr. Worth is just as good a Union man as Mr. Holden, and has been far more consistent, and his election of itself will not one moment delay North Carolina from again taking her position in the great family of States. N.

To the Voters of the First Congressional District of North Carolina.

Fellow Citizens:—I am a candidate to represent you in the next Congress of the United States, and on account of the early period at which the election will be held, I have adopted this means of making known to you some of the views which I entertain connected with our present situation.

I am for the shortest and most expeditious route to restore the State of North Carolina to her full participation in the responsibilities and benefits of the Federal Union, and am willing to yield anything to attain that object, except principle or honor.

I opposed secession with all my power, as unconstitutional, unnecessary and pernicious, but when a majority of the people of the South determined to submit the great questions, which divided the two sections, to the arbitrament of the sword, I sympathized with my people and my section. Their cause was my cause, her people my people, and their God my God. But when superior numbers and resources prevailed, and the decision was rendered against us, duty, inclination and interest, prompted me to submit; and I mean honestly and faithfully to observe all my constitutional obligations, to the Government of the United States, with alacrity and cheerfulness.

I hold that the Government of the United States is a Government and not an Agency, but at the same time I recognize certain rights and powers, reserved to the States, among which is the right to regulate their own internal policy, and I am unwilling to admit that North Carolina has not as fully those powers as any one of the States which compose the Federal Union, and I will never consent for her to resume her Constitutional obligations to that Union until that right is recognized; better stay as we are than enter the Union as an inferior member. I am for full Union, full equality or nothing.

I am opposed to negro suffrage, and, as at present advised, to their giving evidence against white people, but am in favor of their right to hold property and full and ample protection against fraud or violence, and some plan by which they may be speedily transported and settled, where they can enjoy all the blessings and benefits of regulated liberty.

I am in favor of a general bankrupt law to be passed by Congress, in conformity with the Constitutional provision, on that subject.

I shall, if elected, favor the opening, by the General Government, of a Ship Canal between the waters of Albemarle Sound and the Chesapeake Bay.

Fellow Citizens! I have no extra promises to make. If you shall deem fit to elect me to represent you in the next Congress, I will devote my entire energies to your service, and shall favor all measures which, in my judgment, will promote your interest. My antecedents are known to you. I am a whig of the Clay and Webster school, and the great principles of that party will be applied by me, in the decision of questions which may arise.

I shall support the administration of President Johnson, as long as he adheres to the principles already announced, but shall reserve the right to judge of my duty in supporting or opposing measures, affecting your interest, as they may arise.

Respectfully,
RUFUS K. SPEED.

Ordinances and Resolutions passed by the North Carolina State Convention, First Session 1865.

AN ORDINANCE

Providing for the election of the members of the General Assembly to be convened on the fourth Monday of November, 1865, and for electing Representatives in Congress, and Governor of the State:

Be it ordained by the delegates of the people of North Carolina in Convention assembled, and it is hereby ordained, by the authority of the same, That a General Assembly of the State shall be convened on the fourth Monday of November, 1865, the members whereof shall hold their places till the next election of such members, which shall be held on the first Thursday of August, 1866.

Be it further ordained, That the Provisional Governor is hereby authorized and requested to issue forthwith to the sheriff of each County, a writ directing that an election be held for the Senators and members of the House of Commons of such General Assembly, on the second Thursday of November next, under the rules, regulations and provisions of chapter 52 of the Revised Code.

Be it further ordained, That immediately on the receipt of the writ, each Sheriff shall summon the Justices of the Peace of the Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, to assemble at the court house on a day appointed by him, which shall be as early as practicable; and they or so many as may assemble, shall appoint inspectors for each place of election who shall be forthwith notified of their appointment by the Sheriff, and they shall conduct the elections and make returns of the polls in the manner prescribed in said chapter.

Be it further ordained, That each member and voter shall be qualified according to the now existing constitution of the State. Provided, however, That no one shall be eligible to a seat or be capable of voting, who being free in all respects, shall not before the twenty-ninth day of May, eighteen hundred and sixty-five, either have voluntarily taken and subscribed the oath of Amnesty prescribed in the proclamation of President Lincoln, with the purpose to suppress the insurrection and restore the authority of the United States, and thenceforward shall have observed the same, or shall not have taken and subscribed the oath of Amnesty prescribed in the proclamation of President Johnson bearing date twenty-ninth day of May, eighteen hundred and sixty-five, and who moreover, shall not in either case be of those who are excepted from the Amnesty granted by any of the said proclamations, unless pardoned: but provided also, That all persons who may have preferred petitions for pardon, shall be deemed to have been pardoned if the fact of being pardoned shall be announced by the Governor, although the pardon may not have been received: and provided also, that the payment of a public tax shall not be required as a qualification of the voter in the elections in November next.

Be it further ordained, That for the purpose of ascertaining the qualifications of persons proposing to vote, the inspectors may and it shall be their duty whenever the vote may be challenged, or they shall have cause to suspect that he is not duly qualified, examine him and others on oath touching the question.

Be it further ordained, That at the same time and place, elections shall be held for seven Representatives in Congress of the United States, in pursuance of chapter sixty-nine of the Revised Code, which shall be conducted under the rules and regulations therein prescribed for such elections, and the voters in said elections shall be such only as shall be qualified to vote for members of the House of Commons, and the Provisional Governor shall give the certificate required by the ninth section of said chapter.

Be it further ordained, That at the same time and place, an election shall be held for a Governor of the State, under the same rules and regulations prescribed in chapter fifty-three of the Revised Code, and the persons qualified to vote for members of the House of Commons under the ordinance, shall be qualified to vote for Governor.

Be it further ordained, That no person shall be eligible as Governor unless he shall be qualified according to the Constitution of the State, and also shall be capable under the provisions of this ordinance of voting for members of the General Assembly

Be it further ordained, That the Governor thus elected shall take his seat so soon as the authority of the Provisional Governor shall cease, either before the first day of January eighteen hundred and sixty-six or afterwards, before the first day of January eighteen hundred and sixty-seven.

Be it further ordained, That the Governor thus elected shall continue in office till the first day of January, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven.

FOR CONGRESS.

COL. JAMES R. LOVE.

WE are authorized to announce Col. JAMES R. LOVE of Jackson County, as a Conservative—National Union Candidate for a seat in the House of Representatives of the United States, in the 7th Congressional District, composed of the Counties of Ashe, Alleghany, Watauga, Yancy, Mitchell, McDowell, Burke, Caldwell, Rutherford, Cleaveland, Polk, Henderson, Transylvania, Buncombe, Madison, Haywood, Jackson, Macon, Cherokee and Clay.
Oct. 25 1865.

TO THE VOTERS

Of the Fourth Congressional District, composed of the Counties of Orange Chatham Granville, Warren, Franklin, Wake, Johnson and Nash:

Fellow Citizens:—I hereby announce myself a candidate to represent you in the next Congress of the United States. The short time between this and the day of election precludes the possibility of a canvass. Indeed, in the present condition of the country, a heated political campaign should be deprecated by all. The particular measures that will claim the attention of the ensuing Congress, cannot now with certainty be known. Hence idle speculations and precedent pledges are vain and unnecessary. There is one question however, which seems to be agitating to some extent the minds of the people both North and South, but which properly comes within the purview of the State Legislature. I allude to negro suffrage, to which I am utterly opposed. I am in favor as no doubt all of us are, of the speedy restoration of civil law in the State.

If I am honored fellow citizens, by your suffrages with a seat in Congress, I can only promise you to guard zealously your best interests—to devote what ability I may possess to the advocacy and preservation of all your rights—and to uphold and maintain, to the full extent of my power, whatever measures will tend to the welfare, freedom and honor of North Carolina. I sincerely and ardently desire that our people may soon be restored to the enjoyment of all their rights both of person and property, and that they may again be blessed with prosperity, liberty and happiness.

Very Respectfully,
Your Obedient Servant,
A. H. ARRINGTON.

Also the crop of Corn and Fodder, Horses, Mules, Hogs and Cattle, consisting of Beeves, Milch Cows, and Work Oxen. Dump and Ox Carts, Wagons and other Agricultural implements too tedious to mention. North Carolina Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

AT A MEETING OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE Company on the 27th of September, an assessment of 15 per cent. was levied on all premium Notes in the office of the Company at the time the losses occurred, to be paid in three installments, viz: six, nine and twelve months from 1st October, 1865.

The amount of premium Notes on hand,	$320,000
" " Allowed Losses,	10,000
" " Unsettled do.	7,500

(There are some losses not yet reported, the amount of which, of course, cannot now be stated.)

The assessment may appear to be disproportionate to the amount of the losses; but the Directors, taking into consideration the changes in property by sale, without transfer of policies, by destruction during the war, &c., &c., do not think that more will be raised by it than will be needed to meet the actual wants of the Company.

There will be, necessarily some delay in the payment of the losses. It is hoped, however, that there will be no complaint on this account; especially, when it is recollected that payment in some cases, was tendered in Confederate currency and refused.

The Company is prepared to take risks as in former times, and on as favorable terms. Address all letters to the Secretary. T. H. SBLBY, Pres't.
